Aysen Soyer
Head of Family Law

'Our family law experts advise and represent clients in a straightforward manner with empathy and professionalism.'

We are one of the largest family law departments in North London with a team of over 20 specialists.

Many of our team are accredited with the Law Society Panels set up to recognise expertise. We have members of the Family Law Panel, the Advanced Family Law Panel and the Children Panel. We have advanced panellists with particular expertise in disputes between parents over the residence of children, child abduction cases, representing victims of domestic violence, and advising on financial remedies when partners separate.

Some of our team are members of Resolution, the association of family lawyers committed to reaching constructive, negotiated settlement of disputes. We always try to adopt a conciliatory approach where possible.

We have a team of specialist advocates to represent you in court proceedings. Whether it is proceedings involving your children, or an urgent injunction to prevent domestic violence, we have the lawyer for you.

We have been awarded a contract by the Legal Aid Agency to provide free legal advice to those on low incomes for some limited areas of family law.

We are committed to achieving the best possible outcome for our clients. Our lawyers are knowledgeable, professional and sympathetic to your needs. We understand how family proceedings or relationship breakdown can be difficult or frustrating. We do our best to guide you through those processes using uncomplicated language and a pragmatic approach.

Our reputation is very important to us, so we are proud of the fact that the vast majority of our work comes from personal recommendations.

We will guide you

Family law is often complex and can be bewildering to those caught up in proceedings.

We are here to guide you through the maze and do our very best to ensure that you understand the law and that your case succeeds.

Sometimes a case is relatively straightforward but help is needed to make sure it is all dealt with correctly, and we are here to provide that help.

Other cases are much more complicated and you will need sound advice and the benefit of wise judgement calls.
